Supply Shortages:

Merck and Company are experience product delays for their Pediatric and Adult Hepatitis A vaccine (VAQTA®) It is estimated availability by the third quarter-2008 for the Pediatric and the Fourth quarter-2008 for the adult. GSK production and supply of their Pediatric and adult Hepatitis A (Havrix®) and their combination of Hepatitis A and Hepatitis B (Twinrix®) are currently in good supply to meet the demand.

Yellow Fever Vaccine in single dose will be available for the private sector the first week of March. It will not be available for the government until further notice and when it becomes available it will be under an allotment of two per month. Any government agency requiring the single dose, must contact Sanofi Pasteur directly.
